

Project Quotations for Application Development and Implementation- City of Martensville

The City of Martensville is considering adding an application as part of its communication tools and is looking for interested, professional, qualified, and creative firms to provide quotes and timelines to design and complete a functional, modern and efficient application ('app'). This quotation should be accompanied by a brief project description.

The App will integrate a number of features that will help inform residents and provide one more way of being able to access up-to-date information on what matters most to residents. Though the website, Martensville.ca will serve as a basis for the 'app', the app should not be entirely viewed as a simple extension of the website.

One of the primary aspects of the application will be the ability to receive push notifications on news items, upcoming or scheduled programs, service updates or reminders, and key events.

Other key components include:

- Information of key/most frequently used web pages from the City of Martensville website, Martensville.ca
- Push notifications feature. Users would have the ability to receive notifications on news items, upcoming or scheduled programs, city services updates or reminders, and key events.
- Ability to 'Report an Issue', mirroring the City of Martensville website feature.
- An intuitive, and easy-to-use content management system.

The City of Martensville welcomes the opportunity to discuss this project with interested firms to assist them in framing their costing and schedule.

The schedule should reflect the projected timeline from initial contact, development, and finally implementation or the 'go-live' date.

Costing should include a breakdown of costs associated with development along with any licensing costs (Android and iOS), certificates, security or needed infrastructure. Costing should also note any anticipated support or expected annual costs.
